Baker & Daboll Partners with Greater Cincinnati Health Council

CINCINNATI, OH (March 1, 2011) – Baker & Daboll is pleased to announce that it has entered into a group purchasing agreement with the Greater Cincinnati Health Council to be the Council's preferred provider of coaching services for its members. Baker & Daboll focuses on executives, professionals, military and healthcare organizations throughout the TriState region.

Baker & Daboll's growing healthcare practice includes a team of coaches with a broad range of experience improving and supporting the many disciplines that encompass the healthcare arena. These coaches are accessible, reliable and quality-driven, and are cognizant of the evidence-based environment of healthcare. Their breadth of knowledge in the healthcare industry allows them to assist area healthcare providers in better understanding the systems in which they work, and to appreciate the individual strengths that healthcare leaders bring to their organizations' mission and goals. Baker & Daboll can also help community health leaders and advocates understand how their positional influence enhances their ability to inspire and engage.

"We are pleased to collaborate with the Greater Cincinnati Health Council," says Dr. Amy Katz, chief learning officer and senior executive coach at Baker & Daboll.

"Healthcare is a thriving area for us that we understand quite well. We believe it is a venue where we can bring a great deal of value and support, and we look forward to working with Council members."

"The Greater Cincinnati Health Council is excited to offer Baker & Daboll's customized coaching services at prices exclusively available to our members," said Colleen O'Toole, PhD, president of the Greater Cincinnati Health Council. "It is the type of contract fits well with our unique role of providing our members support and access to resources that can help them achieve better results for themselves, their patients and the community. Working with outstanding local companies like Baker & Daboll to bring important products and services to our members in a very cost-effective way ultimately impacts their ability to provide high quality, high value healthcare."
